Call for Research Grant Applications in field of neurotransmitter related disorders

Lil' Brave One (Hrabriša) Research Grant 2026 - announcement

The patient organization Lil' Brave One (Hrabriša) is pleased to announce a competitive research grant to support innovative projects in the field of neurotransmitter related disorders.

This research grant is being announced as part of Lil' Brave One (Hrabriša)'s strategic goal to promote basic and clinical research in the field of neurotransmitter-related disorders. It is designed to strengthen collaboration between researchers, clinicians, and the patient community, and to contribute to the long-term research strategy of Lil' Brave One (Hrabriša).

Grant Amount

A total of EUR 10,000 will be awarded to support one outstanding research project.

The funds may be used for personnel costs, general operations and research-enabling activities such as data collection, coordination, infrastructure (e.g., biobanks, data collection efforts), or personnel time as well as direct experimental costs and consumables (up to a maximum 50% of the grant funds). Co-funding is possible.

Scope of Funding

Applications are invited for both:

- Clinical research, and
- Basic (laboratory-based) research.

Projects should focus on neurotransmitter-related disorders, demonstrate scientific merit, feasibility, and potential impact on advancing knowledge or improving patient outcomes.

Eligibility

Researchers at academic institutions, hospitals, or research organizations are encouraged to apply. Early-career investigators are particularly welcome.

The grant will be provided as a donation to the eligible host institution. Applicants must ensure that their institution is able to accept and administer the grant as a donation in accordance with applicable regulations and institutional procedures.

Key Dates

- Submission Deadline: 30 October 2026
- Grant Start Date: 1 January 2027

Projects are expected to be completed within 6–12 months. An extension of the time period is possible upon request, provided that valid reasons are given.

Application Requirements

Applicants should submit:

- A research proposal (max. 3 pages)
- Budget outline and justification
- Curriculum vitae (CV) of the principal investigator
- Supportive letter of the institution where the researcher is hired.

Selection Criteria

Proposals will be evaluated by evaluation committee based on:

- Scientific quality and originality
- Feasibility and clarity of methodology
- Relevance and potential impact
- Appropriate use of funds.

Applications will be reviewed by a multidisciplinary committee including scientific experts and patient representatives.

How to Apply
